

Blink-Ink

Outlaws

Issue #29

“When you can’t foresee the future, and you don’t recall the past,
you’re on the wrong side of the law.”

Twin: David Linhart & Jonathan Siegel

“Pancho was a bandit boy
His horse was fast as polished steel
He wore his gun outside his pants
For all the honest world to feel”

Townes Van Zandt

“To live outside the law you must be honest”

Bob Dylan

Blink-Ink #29 Outlaws

Right of Way – Alisa Golden
Green Smoothies & Droneless – S. Kay
Cat Looking Out – Janne Karlsson
Roger Trilogy – Lynn Mundell
In-laws – DL Shirey
Oak Wood Manor Rules and Regulations
Margaret Brinton
The Sky, The Sky, The Wide Open Sky – Len Kuntz
Santa Muerto Can’t Help You Now – Robert Masterson
The Fox – Nancy Stohlman
Les Infidles – Salvatore Difalco
The Bigger, The Better – Catfish McDaris
Fall Colors – Doug Mathewson
Jack and Johnny – Lawrence E. Cox
Light Blue – Mary Chandler Philpott
Giovanni Corbeddu Salis – John Paul Davies
Not Wanted Dead or Alive – Jeff Scattini
Cat Looking Pissed – Janne Karlsson
New Currency – Katherine Rowe
The Getaway – Laura Alonso Corona
Good Looking, Desperate, Discouraged, and Ready for Anything – Sarah Hutchins
Fitting Billy – Larry Lefkowitz
At Grandpa’ house – Treena Ahlstrom
The Night Express to Marrakech – Don Skiles
Doug Mathewson – Editor
Sally Reno – Managing Editor
Mike Spaner – IT and Web Design
K&G Graphics – Logistics – Printing Service

Good-Looking, Desperate, Discouraged, and Ready for Anything that Might Come

At 16, Pearl Hart mistook elopement for love. Social institutions shunned her, but crime beckoned. In 1899, on trial for the Arizona Globe Stagecoach robbery, she declared, "I shall not consent to be tried under a law in which my sex had no voice in making." They convicted her anyway.

Sarah Hutchins